

Welcome to Freeman's new online ordering !

We are committed to providing a modern online shopping and checkout experience, featuring new benefits, including:

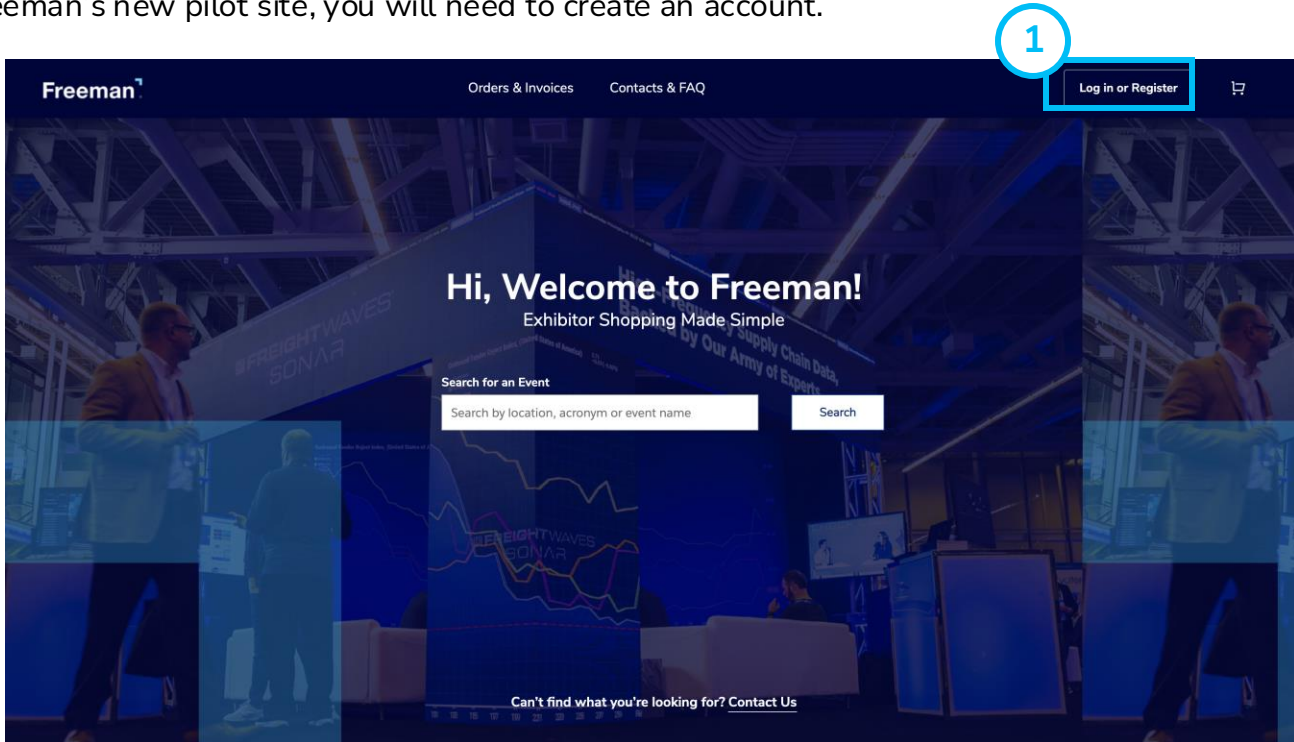

- A shop landing page for easier navigation to products and services
- Dynamic planning checklist to ensure everything is taken care of
- More intuitive material handling information
- Submit and view service requests directly on the site

The modern online ordering site will require a new user to register, regardless of if you have an existing FreemanOnline account.

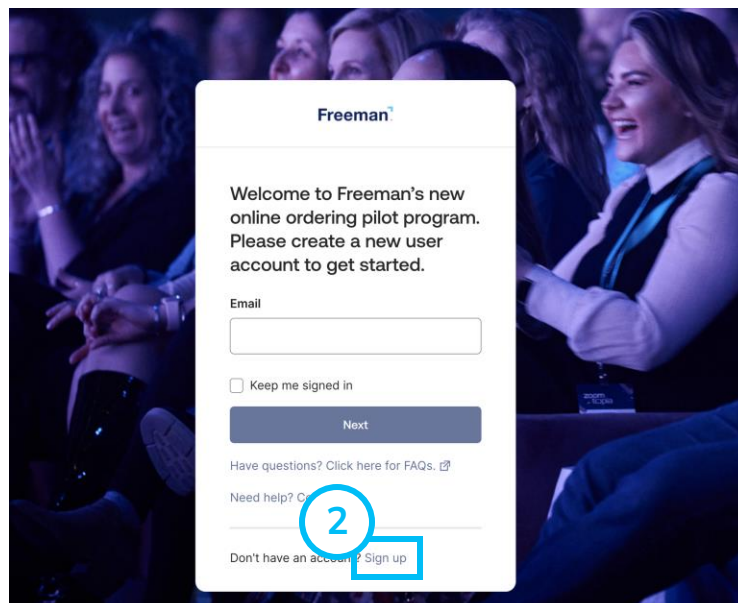

Keep reading to learn how to create a new account.

Create your account

6. After verifying your email address, you will then need to associate your account with a customer number, or company name. To begin, enter your Company Name

- Alternatively, Accounts may also be registered using your Customer Number which can be found on any Freeman invoice

7. Select “Search”

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Find your company" with the instruction "Find and select your company to complete account creation and become eligible for ordering." There are two tabs: "By Company Name" (active, underlined in pink) and "By Customer Number". A blue circle with the number "6" points to the "Company Name" field, which is marked with a red asterisk and has a help icon. The input field contains the placeholder text "Enter Company Name". Below this are "Country" and "State" dropdown menus, both with "Choose Option" as the selected value. A link "+ Refine Your Search" is located below the dropdowns. A blue circle with the number "7" points to a dark blue "Search" button. At the bottom of the form, it says "Already have an account? Sign In".

Note:

- You can associate yourself with your company by searching by the Company Name.
- The "Refine Your Search" button expands to search by City, State, and Postal Code.
- Once you enter the Company Name and select the "Search" button, a list of results will appear to select from.
